VILLAGE JUICERY

Located in Toronto (2015), the first store in a range of retail spaces, Village Juicery is a modern and minimalist design that reflects the quality of the products offered. The freshening of the store design is a multi-functional grocery store containing packs of fresh produce, a smoothie bar, a product display, and a small seating area for customers to enjoy their drinks and snacks. The design incorporates flexible, functional, healthy, natural and custom materials, which hold the general look, atmosphere and philosophy of the store. The design is a perfect example of how an interior can be both functional and beautiful. The design is a perfect example of how an interior can be both functional and beautiful.
